

Saudi Arabia reports two more deaths from MERS virus

24 April 2014

Saudi Arabia's health ministry says two more patients who became infected with a Middle East virus related to SARS have died, and that 13 others have contracted the virus.

The ministry said on Thursday that the new cases from the Middle East respiratory syndrome coronavirus were reported in the capital of Riyadh, as well as in the western city of Jiddah and the Islamic holy cities of Mecca and Medina.

The deaths bring to 83 the number of people who have died in the kingdom since contracting the virus in September 2012. The kingdom has recorded a total of 285 confirmed cases.

On Monday, King Abdullah removed the country's health minister following a recent spike in MERS cases.

© 2014 The Associated Press. All rights reserved.

APA citation: Saudi Arabia reports two more deaths from MERS virus (2014, April 24) retrieved 25 April 2021 from https://medicalxpress.com/news/2014-04-saudi-arabia-deaths-mers-virus_1_2.html

This document is subject to copyright. Apart from any fair dealing for the purpose of private study or research, no part may be reproduced without the written permission. The content is provided for information purposes only.