

EMA probes AstraZeneca link to new blood vessel condition

9 April 2021

Credit: CC0 Public Domain

The European Medicines Agency said Friday it is probing possible links between the AstraZeneca coronavirus vaccine and cases of a rare blood vessel disorder, days after a separate warning about blood clots.

The EMA said it was reviewing five cases of capillary leak syndrome, which is "characterised by leakage of fluid from blood vessels causing tissue swelling and a drop in blood pressure".

© 2021 AFP

APA citation: EMA probes AstraZeneca link to new blood vessel condition (2021, April 9) retrieved 1 August 2022 from <https://medicalxpress.com/news/2021-04-ema-probes-astrazeneca-link-blood.html>

This document is subject to copyright. Apart from any fair dealing for the purpose of private study or research, no part may be reproduced without the written permission. The content is provided for information purposes only.